Chris,
We've got only a few days left til were seniors, its going to be a great party in year. We never got to party this year & thats too bad, but wait till this coming year. We've got some heavy partying to do over summer to. Don't be a stranger give me a call if your bored,
Good Luck & see ya around

Chris,
Your a wild, crazy, totally outrageous guy whose also super sweet & a total tease to me. But its fun! Keep in touch this summer and don't party Too much! (ya, right!) Best of luck always in everything!
Lots of Love
Rosella

Padge,
Well buddy, we made it through another year together. I just got done reading what Dale put and I only have one thing to say. Dale "yours" a lightweight!!!
I think you totally agree, huh? It's funny that nobody would accept his invite to the Prom. Tcish shot him down faster than Flies gather on a warm pile of shit. And get this, you know what Irene and him did after the big Prom. They went to fucking sleep at Dale's house. Padge, dude, it's been one I don't think Dale's ever got a piece of ass, except his dog's. OH well enough of bitting on Dale.
Well brew dude, it's been a HELL of a year for the BREW CREW. Your going to have to get me away from Frankelli this year. Since we haven't partyed seriously Remember the time we went to Chapla's so we can get together since the DUI. And you know that I'll be at party in Knoll wood? That was too out. Keep calling me and we'll go rageous! Then you tried to make a move on the "y" this summer lifting. Keep stoked and stay cool.
Michelle M. Boy, out one night.
we were toasted Later that night dude. Shannon
This summer is gonna be soooooo
rockin that it ain't
even gonna be funny!
I mean we're gonna have a few some serious partyin'! Our SENIOR year is comin' up and we're gonna have to carry on the Padgett tradition and party our ASSES off! This is gonna be HELL of a year
bud. Well man, it's been great being brews brothers this year and I hope we can remain the craziest bastards this school has ever known!
Well bud, not much more I can say except that it's been fantastic.
See ya in BUDWEISER heaven this summer.

We've Got Spirit

We are the Cavemen and we are proud of it! Our school might not be the biggest or the most modern, but we are definately the best group of PEOPLE! Cavemen are friendly and smart, and they do things with pride; they go all out in whatever they do. We stand behind our teams and clubs and other organizations and pour that special Mishawaka intensity into them. We share that spirited aura with our friends, teammates, classmates, and even with those people in the hall that we don't even know; all we need to know to be one and the same is that we are CAVEMEN, those special people at Mishawaka High School!

MISHAWAKA SCHOOL SONG

March, march on down to fame.
We're out to win this game.
Our coach and all his men are just what they seem.
So give a loud cheer for Mishawaka
Hear all those Boosters talk!
_____ High may fight to the end,
But we will win!

Fight on, Mishawaka;
Live up to your name.
Raise high all your standards.
Spread 'round all your fame.
We're marching to victory,
Won't stop till we're there.
So fight, Mishawaka, fight,
And win this game. Rah! Rah!

Wheels Mean . . .

Because many of the students here at Mishawaka are sixteen or older, the emergence of drivers' licenses was great. The automobile put the Cavemen on wheels!

Our cars took us everywhere, like to school and work on time, and to places that we actually wanted to go, like to the mall or a movie or maybe just cruising. Where would we be without our cars?

We would be missing out on a lot of fun if it weren't for motorcycles too. There's nothing like riding down the street with the wind in your face on a nice sunny day! The motorcycle is truly one of the most exciting forms of wheels.

Another kind of danger on wheels is rollerskating. Many of the people in our school like to go skating at the roller rinks in the area, or they might prefer to skate in the streets in front of their houses.

Bikes were also a part of our daily routines. They could be used for transportational purposes as well as for fun. BMX racing got so popular that a group of guys in the school tried to make it a school sport.

Cyndi Mikesell '86 — "Having a car means freedom from parents, but also responsibility for gas, insurance and other expenses."

Erika Strantz '87 — "Having wheels means going to Taco Bell for a bean burrito whenever I want!"

Michele Hahaj '88 — "I don't have my own wheels, so the bus means a lot!"

Terry Crowe '87 — "My mom won't let me take the car that much, so I guess the most important wheels to me are my friends' cars."

A Bike is Joe Menn's transportation to school.

Doug Kronewitter and his dad take off on one of the most exciting ways of transportation to and from school.

Jana Gardner '88 — "It means chasing such people as Knute Hierman and 'the gang' and transportation to parties!"

Tracie Myers '86 — "It means being able to go out on my own. It means taking out friends and taking M.R. on a date."

Nick Linarello '87 — "My wheels mean having my car stolen at the outdoor by Julie Smith and Jana Gardner.

Christine Beltrame '89 — "My wheels will be my sixteenth birthday present, and they will mean fun and escape and freedom."

A Bond Of Closeness

Friendship is a bond of closeness between people that no one can break. It is an expression of love or kinship which is spontaeneous, yet needs work to keep it strong.

Most friends are made during our high school years, and those are the ones that are never forgotten. They are the ones that stick with you through that first love and the nights you can't go out. Friends are also the ones that give you that shoulder to cry on when things aren't going your way.

Friends were made mostly through extra curricular activities, where many people got together regularly and learned about each other. They learned how to cope with others; therefore, bringing the bond of closeness together.

Many close relationships were shared during our high school years. Some of these relationships will go on to last a life time while others will end at graduation. The memories of those friendships will have an everlasting imprint in our minds.

School Means . . .

SCHOOL. The word that strikes fear in the hearts of more American kids than anyone can count. It's a scary time of life, the time when that first essay or research paper has to be written; and some people choose to make a big deal, a horror story, out of those years called high school. Others can just go with the flow and actually make school an exciting and memorable experience, and their four years of high intensity studying, test-taking, and lab work are a breeze. Mishawaka's classrooms are filled with both of these types of students — the hopeful and the struggling. Both are represented in our school, and both make their feelings known.

Kim McCampbell '86 — "School is a place to learn, to have fun, to grow up, and to become an individual."

Lisa Batiz '88 — "What school means to me is to see all my friends.

Kathy Strong '87 — "School is a place where I can see David Carpenter every day, whether he likes it or not!"

Mr. Taylor — "School is a place where students can learn and teachers can teach and help the students meet their goals in life. If we both work together we will meet our needs together."

Homecoming Festivities

The whole day was a festivity as we celebrated Homecoming with carnations to wear all day. Schoolwise, the day was topped off with a rowdy pep session to inspire our team to WIN! The Homecoming Court was announced, and Rogge helped get in the spirit with his rousing rendition of "Give Me a C".

That night at the game against Clay the first half was exciting as Don Hostetler made two touchdowns and ran for a two point conversion to give us a 14-3 lead at the half. At halftime, the suspense rose as the three nominees for the Queen stood before the crowd and Student Council President Rocco Zappia slowly made his way to the winner; Beth Johnson was crowned the new 1985 Homecoming Queen. That thrilling moment was only surpassed when Steve Roggemen caught a pass to put our team in scoring position and the touchdown gave us a 20-3 victory!

An Old Story Revised

Everyone knows the story of Cinderella, the beautiful girl with a terrible step-mother and awful step sisters. She lived a terrible life, but she had wonderful dreams, and one evening they came true when her fairy godmother appeared. This is the regular old run-of-the-mill Cinderella story, but this year's children's play about the story had some interesting twists to it. The fairy godmother had to go against the law to change the pumpkin and mice into a carriage and drivers. It seems that magic was against the law in the land, and all the fairies had to finally convince the king to change the law at the end of the play. The play was a sort of comedy, and for another change, a dancing lion was fit into the story somehow. Even with the changes, it was a big hit with the kids and the cast had a fun time with this play.

The cast was as follows:

|---|---|
| Cinderella | Jenny Dahlin |
| Mala | Shelly Comstock |
| Peony | Jenni Grimm |
| Hollyhock | Mary Fozo |
| Miss Friendly | Shelly Buckley |
| Prince Adrian | Darin Dahms |

Rogge Says It All

Steve Roggeman is a man of many talents. He is a dedicated football player, student, and in a sense, a sort of cheerleading figure and our favorite mascot; 'The Caveman!' He gets out there on the track at pep assemblies and the court during basketball season to lead the crowd in our cheer, "Give me a C"

We all get really pepped up when he's out there cheering. The team does too, and everyone is in a mood to WIN! Steve gets us in the spirit to cheer on our team, and the team-mates' spirits get a boost too! Everyone benefits from Steve's cheers.

When asked what goes through his mind when he's out there cheering Steve says, "I just go out there and try to get these people fired up and behind the team." We can all say that he gets the job pretty well done! Almost no one person has generated so much spirit all by himself.

Yes, Steve should get much of the credit for making our crowds so responsive and therefore our team so successful. Thanks a lot Steve, for making our school the spirited people we are!

Mishawaka Goes Mania

This year a new idea was brought to MHS by a student's father. Mr. Jerry Haughee came to the Student Council and gave a presentation concerning "Mishawaka Mania." "What is Mania?" was the question that began revolving throughout the school. As summed up by Mr. Haughee, "Mania is a theme for MHS kind of like Penn Pride or South Bend Wash. Green Machine. Mania means intense enthusiasm and excitement and was designed in an effort to create unity between the boosters, Student Council, and PTA.

This new idea came about in the fall of this school year when Mr. Haughee began thinking about names for Mishawaka High School. The first idea that came to mind was Maroon Mania which geared thoughts to just athletics. This was later changed to Mishawaka Mania, because he felt that this slogan included all of the people of MHS. Missy Bice commented, "I think Mania is a good idea, but it needs to be promoted more so people will become aware of it."

In December, the Student Council went right to work promoting Mania by selling t-shirts, hats, and sweatshirts bearing the design for Mishawaka Mania which has been registered by an attorney as a trademark to be used for school sponsored activities. Eventually either the Student Council or the PTA would take control of the trademark and use it for academics as well as athletics and school spirit.

Hopefully before the 1985-86 school year ends, Mishawaka Mania will be as common as "Give me a 'C' " is now. David Carpenter exclaimed, "Overall, Mania is a great way for the Cavemen fans to show the school spirit, enthusiasm, and pride that they have towards Mishawaka High School."

Spirit Week Is A Success

Spirit Week was a huge success at Mishawaka High School this year. The Student Council President Rocco Zappia was in charge of selecting particular days in which to dress up, and the rest of the Student Council voted on their favorites. Rocco commented, "I was extremely pleased by the participation of the students during the week."

Suzi Jones exclaimed, "Spirit Week worked out a lot better this year than in the past; more people got enthusiastic and dressed up." The purpose of dressing up throughout the week was to arouse spirit and get students fired up for the big game against Penn.

I thought the week was well-organized, and I was kind of surprised that so many people took part," Bucky Linson replied.

Monday was dress-down day, and most students arrived at school in sweats and old T-shirts. Jennifer Causey said, "I liked coming to school in sweats and feeling comfortable all day long." Movie star day took place on Tuesday and students dressed like their favorite star.

Tracy Jagerman said, "Being Tina Turner was totally fun for movie star day!" Wednesday was Hawaiian day and the popular attire consisted of grass skirts, flowered shirts, sunglasses, leas, and sandals.

Mary Plonski answered. "I liked Hawaiian day because it made me forget the awful weather we have here." Thursday, anti-Penn day was the most successful of all. Most students looked like they had just come in from the barnyard.

Kurran Heston commented, "I liked farmer day because it was neat to dress up and make fun of Penn." The last day of Spirit Week was saved for students to wear school colors and show exactly how much spirit they had.

Danielle Dalley exclaimed, "It seemed like everyone in the hall was wearing maroon and white!"

Some students weren't able to find appropriate costumes to wear, but David Carpenter replied, "Even though I didn't dress up everyday, I really enjoyed seeing other people's crazy outfits." Once again, Spirit Week proved to be exciting, colorful, and very amusing.

Face It, School Isn't All That Bad!

Face it, sometimes relaxing and loosening up are the best cures for the school blues. Tears, frowns, and smiles have all played a part in every human's life. For instance, junior Scott Bellot commented, "A face is not just an individual mask to identify with a person, but it is also a tool used to convey emotions and humor."

Throughout the lengthy school days, students were caught showing some most unusual faces. One of these was Kurran Heston trying to dodge the camera behind her purse.

Once in a while, faces give away feelings too easily. For instance, when gifts are opened at Christmas time, not every gift is what was expected. Unfortunately an on-the-spot face expression of disappointment or distaste might be painful to the giver. On the other hand, a look of true love in one's eyes could perhaps save a relationship starting downhill since a friend can read another friend's eyes and feel the sincerity.

Most faces give people something to smile about as Mark Galentine exclaimed, "When I see my girlfriend's face, it makes me feel good to know that she's here with me."

Another aspect about facial expressions as one freshman said is that "a face may sometimes tell a person's personality." Faces ranging anywhere from anxiety to fear are shown during the many straining moments in a sport. Julie Schramm replied, "My all-time favorite face is a look of relief from the coach after finishing a Cross Country course."

Consequently, students every day just like to goof off and make silly and totally off the wall faces. Reasons for these expressions are unknown and the only conclusions that can be drawn are to irritate teachers or bug classmates.

Although everyone certainly makes numerous funny faces to each other, freshman Debbie Hallam replied, "A simple smile can do wonders for you and others and will make a difference the whole day through."

Variety Show Gets Rave Review!

This year the Variety Show had many entertaining acts which the crowd, filled to capacity in the auditorium, really enjoyed. The swing choir performed first, singing and dancing to "We're Doing a Show," "Singing in the Rain," and "Rhythm of Life." Senior Mary Fozo commented, "We worked really hard for weeks before the show in order to get a new routine together. It was very exciting performing for the large audience."

For the second act sophomore Beth Piatkowski, who was accompanied on the piano by Amy Thornton, sang "What a Feeling" and "Rose." For a break from the music in the show, junior Joel Thompson did a skit pretending to hold a conversation with Abe Lincoln. The audience really liked his mock conversation as well as the next act when Marigrace Patton did an Irish dance. Marigrace said, "I've been dancing for eleven years now, and those big crowds don't affect me any longer."

For the third act of the show the music began once again as senior Brian Barber sang "Just the Way You Are." He was followed by a skit titled "A Fairy Story." This skit was performed by Aaron Bobson, Jenny Dahlins, Darin Dahms, Jenny Grimm, Laura Musser, and Joel Thompson. They acted out a skit concerning a terrible dragon.

Next, Jerry Peddycord sang "Annie's Song" and played the guitar. Then Aaron Bobson, Jenny Grimm and Joel Thompson walked out on stage, plugging their noses and hitting their throats, sounding like genuine bagpipes. The audience roared and sophomore Dana Hostetler exclaimed, "Their skit was very funny and original. Nobody expected anything like it."

For the last act of the night, the well-known band Still Fall played many popular songs which rocked the auditorium. Senior Chris Tordi commented, "I thought the band was the best act of the show." The band consisted of Chris Hoskins, Gary Jones, Nick Linarello, and Ray Lukowski. Some of the songs they played were "Running with the Devil," Lay It Down," "Hot Bloooded," and "Loving Every Minute of It." The students in the audience stood up and danced to the music and everybody seemed to have a good time.

A CHRISTMAS TREE IN THE MIDDLE OF THE MAIN HALL?

Not many schools are able to keep a display such as a tree in the main hall for fear of destruction, but MHS has the kind of students that it takes to allow such decorations. Now, if it were a Penn tree . . .

The Fashion Scene At MHS

Students at Mishawaka High School dressed in fashionable outfits all year long. Many new trends were started and everybody seemed to join in with the fads. Junior Chris Monroe commented, "This year brought an array of different styles that appealed to me, but it seemed that I never had enough money to buy all the things I liked."

Bulky, Shaker knit sweaters in various colors were matched with tank tops or blouses, which were sometimes even untucked from the sweater. Tight fitting stirrup pants became popular with students, who put them together with colorful socks and pumps. "I like wearing colored nylons because they help to color-coordinate your outfit," replied Cheryl Zielinski. Big earrings, plastic bracelets, and large strands of beads were fun accessories which helped add to the outfit of 1986. Susie Reising said, "I think accessories add to an outfit. Without them, clothes can look really dull."

Many girls found a switch from blue jeans to the mini-skirt, which was brought back in style from the late 60's. Mini-skirts were often worn with oversized shirts, often dressed up with a big, bright belt. The paisley print also came into the 80's on dress pants, blouses and sweaters. Brian Nelson expressed his opinion by saying, "I don't like the paisley print; I think it looks like an amoeba!"

People began wearing wild and crazy prints, with spots, blotches, stripes, squiggles, and even pants printed with a plaid design. Even corduroy knickers with argyle socks became popular as the year wore on.

The bobbed haircut was very popular this year, and girls tied big, lace bows in their hair, or pulled it back with a big clip.

The boys at Mishawaka dressed in big, pocketed jeans, dress shirts, knitted sweaters, thin ties, and shoes that laced. Junior Ricky Ellsasser commented, "It's really been kind of fun shopping for all the new styles."

We Remember World Events

This past year was a year of tragedy concerning terrorism, earthquakes, and plane disasters. The hijacking of the Italian liner Achille Lauro headlined a year of terrorism that swept through the Middle East. A Columbian volcano erupted and left 25,000 people dead, and a Mexico City earthquake crushed or trapped 7,000 people. In addition, some 2,000 lives were lost due to air crashes.

It was also the year for charitable giving. Rock concerts were held for the African famine victims. One such concert was called "Live Aid". Held in London, 72,000 fans attended, and a billion more watched it live on television. Everyone sang "We are the world."

Remember when Coke decided to take Coke off the market and replace it with New Coke? Well, this led to a Coke rebellion which not only brought Coke back, but gave us Cherry Coke as well.

Chill Out And Enjoy The Snow

December, January, and February may seem like bleak months to some people, but the students at Mishawaka High School found ways to have a good time even if it was 5° below zero. In the winter time, many activities are available to people who want to get together with a few friends and have some fun. "I love throwing snowballs at my friends, and watching them try to run away," replied freshman Kristie Brown.

Others found ice skating at Merrifield, or sledding down the huge hills at George Wilson Park a big thrill. Cassie De Wulf exclaimed, "In the winter I like to go sledding and then come home to a nice cup of chocolate." Some students have even felt the excitement of riding on an innertube down the slopes at Bendix Woods.

Though winter time is great for frolicking in the snow, staying outdoors too long might possibly have produced a few cases of minor frostbite for the unfortunate people. Todd Ashburn commented, "I like snuggling up to a warm fire after coming in from the cold." While some found the cold disturbing, Art Anderson said that his favorite thing to do in the winter was "going cross-country skiing at Swiss Valley and Potato Creek."

Just the amount of fluffy, white snow that fell in the winter time was able to satisfy most people, and Steve Zornig replied, I liked making angels in the snow." Snowmen and even snow sculptures were commonly seen in yards, and the Christmas spirit was in the air. "My favorite winter activity is going to Eby Pines to cut down our Christmas tree," commented senior Sally Causey.

Students at Mishawaka looked forward to Christmas so they could get gifts from Santa Claus, and celebrate New Year's with friends. Junior Shelly Galentine exclaimed, "I really have a fun time with my friends during the winter!"

Kara Urschel laughs at an unfortunate student who can't seem to get his car out of the slush.

Band Generates School Spirit

"Band has always been fun and exciting" — Laura Parmley

With the arrival of August's hot sun, the Mishawaka Marching Band began rehearsing for the upcoming football pregame and halftime performances. They performed many songs such as: "Raiders of the Lost Ark," "Easy Lover," "The Way We Were," and "Wake Me Up Before You Go Go."

In addition they performed three concerts during the year. In the winter concert, the band entertained the audience with various selections such as "Neutron Dance" and "American HoDown." The spring season brought forth the Mayfest, the biggest concert of the year, with the orchestra, choir, and the MHS band exhibiting their best talents in music.

As well as preparing for concerts, the Symphonic Band went to local contests in the spring. The band also sold candy bars, cheese and sausage, and Valentine's Day carnations for the benefit of the band.

When basketball season rolled around, the pep band boosted the spirits of the fans with lively tunes during pre-game and half-time. "Rockin at Midnight," "We Got the Beat," and "I've Got the Music In Me" were among several songs the pep band performed.

Choir Belts It Out

Do Re Mi Fa So La Ti Do! Most of the choir students at MHS this past year knew this to be the basic tones in the diatonic scale. What does "choir" actually mean? Well it is "an organized company of singers especially in church services." Somehow all of the choir classes fit this description.

A'Cappela choir, which gve us the tremendous Vespers' program in the Christmas season, is made up of over fifty students. These students practiced everyday in the big talent-filled room of 125C, where they learned how to perform at the best of their abilities in order to benefit the entire group.

The Swing Choir, who danced and sang their way into our hearts, is made up of only fifteen students. Although the quantity of the group is small, the quality is very productive. They learned to dance, sing, and even choreograph.

The Madrigals sang quite frequently at churches, elementary schools, and even in the MHS hallways. Often dressed in costumes of early times, they helped the audience to picture the time of the music. They learned to be together as an ensemble, yet be perfect as a solo.

All in all, room 125C seems to be filled with musical talent ranging from dancing to singing. This room, although hidden, will always be an important room in the MHS building.

Orchestra Sets Goals

"Many Of The Members Won First And Second Prizes — Which Comes From Hard Work" — Kim Beck

The orchestra is a class that is classified as a fine art. The students who enroll in orchestra have special musical talents that allow them to play string instruments.

One of the many activities that the orchestra took place in this year was an over nighter that may seem from the sounds of it "a real fun time", but ask any orchestra person what he thought of it and he will probably tell you it was fun, but a lot of hard work. "I had a really fun time at the over nighter but the work that was involved was some what tedious work," commented an orchestra member. The over nighter entailed an instructor from a known orchestra who took the orchestra through many drills in reading music by sight and also perfecting pieces that were already being used for concert purposes.

The orchestra is conducted by Mr. Palmiter who really enjoys the challenge of being the director. "Mr. Palmiter is a very good instructor who knows his music well. He never hesitates when help is needed, and takes the extra time to help," commented Kim Beck.

Another aspect of the music department is the chance to go down to state or area places to compete with other students with arranged pieces. It is a chance to get medals for places that anyone can be proud of. Contests have a lot of different classifications in which to follow by. Students here at MHS had a very high standing at the contests that were held. Congratulations to the members of the orchestra who represented MHS in area contests and for making the known excellence of Mishawaka High School Student known to more!

The Girls Show Their Stuff

"Being on the squad is lots of fun and hard work. I like it . . ." — Jody Stafford

How does making up a new routine for each performance sound to you? Not too bad you say? How about practicing year round for a group not considered a sport but performs during sports events? This is what the Pom-Pon/Flag Corp does.

Sponsored by Cindy Gill, the poms started practicing at the beginning of summer. The girls spent four days at Ball State in Muncie, Indiana. They learned new routines and how to twirl and hold a flag more properly. Christy Erving said that they received "a most improved" rating. After all this hard work they celebrated with a pizza party. They met tons of girls and had a really good time.

The girls did routines during games to "Raiders of the Lost Ark," "The Way We Were," "Barbara Ann," "Wake Me Up Before You Go Go," "Bird Land," and "Easy Lover." The girls practiced four to five hours each day until summer was over and during third hour once school began to get their routines down pat.

On October 2 the girls went with the band to South Bend for the Band-A-Rama. The girls and the band performed their half-time routine in front of all the South Bend schools and crowds of people. Cindy Gill said that the crowd was made up of mostly band parents, but they still loved it.

Chris Ryan said that being on the pom-pon/flag corp was important to her because she didn't participate in sports during the school year.

Lori Coolman said that some of the advantages are getting to know new and different people. It was also a new experience; they learned to cooperate with a group of girls.

Barb Wagner and Suzi Jones said that some of the disadvantages are that being on the squad takes up a lot of their own time.

Rah! Rah! Rah!

"Cheerleading is great, and I'd like to participate in college." — M. Mennucci

This year, the Cavemen cheerleaders got off to a very early start. Practice began immediately after tryouts in May. The cheerleaders attended a four day camp at Indiana University where they learned new cheers, partner stunts, pyramids, and pom-pon routines. These camps are very important because they teach the cheerleaders new ideas on getting the student body involved. Monica Blasko stated, "Our job is to promote as much school spirit as possible, and encourage enthusiasm in the athletes." The squads were evaluated on their ability in cheers and gymnastics, and received many superior ribbons. They were also awarded a spirit stick everyday (given to the squads with the most spirit and best attitudes). Lori O'Brien commented, "I thought it was really easy learning the new high school material."

Upon arriving home from camp, practice began for the JV and Varsity to prepare a four minute routine of non-stop cheers, chants, and pyramids for the State Fair in Indianapolis. "Practice for the fair was hard, and sometimes frustrating, but the actual competition was really exciting!", exclaimed Stephanie Krempec. The girls placed fifth among seventy other squads. They won a trophy, and $75.00 in cash toward new uniforms.

All the cheerleaders had to agree that "cheerleading is fun," and Stephanie Linson said, "Cheerleading practice took up a lot of time, but I didn't mind because I enjoyed it, and the hard work paid off."

Extra Time A Must

"I think taking on the position of editor is a real challenge . . . " — Mike Teeter

Have you ever written anything that you knew was going to be published and over 1700 people, not just students, were going to see it? Well the Miskodeed staff knows all about that feeling, and not just with words but with an entire book, containing pictures and drawings and comments about our high school years. This book is one that will be read years from now, and the staff knows that what they write has to be just right. Themes, artwork, headlines, page ideas — a lot of things had to be thoroughly worked out and planned through before the actual work of putting a yearbook together can begin. And what a job that was!

The theme chosen for this year's Miskodeed was "Let It Roll". The staff consisted of our adviser, Mrs. Szymczak and many students who had various jobs to do. There were photographic assignments to go on, photos to arrange, copy and headlines to write, and layouts to design. The advertisement staff was responsible for bringing in the Misko's budget by selling ads, thousands of dollars worth actually — over 75 ads.

The staff, along with Mr. and Mrs. Szymczak took a trip to Calvin College, a small campus near Grand Rapids, Michigan. The college offered a seminar on the making, selling, and planning for a better yearbook. While there, the staff learned different layout techniques and better business management.There were also different classes offered on such subjects as photography, copy writing, and editing.

The staff worked hard and was devoted. They spent many Saturdays and parts of vacations trudging back to school in good weather and bad to do the Miskodeed. The final result was this magnificent book that is right before your eyes. It took us, the staff a lot of patience and effort to make this book, and we know you will enjoy it!

The Alltold Tells All

"Alltold has given me much responsibility that takes a lot of time . . . "

— Michelle Windsor

The school newspaper, the Alltold, again came out every two weeks and was read by the student body when it was passed out during sponsor room on Mondays. The Alltold staff worked very hard on their publication, and they could be found busily writing, typing, and laying out the pages in room 224 during seventh hour. The staff got a new advisor, Mr. Galt, and many changes were soon to be found with the paper. The white, stiff paper that it was formerly printed on was changed and replaced with the thin, more lightweight paper resembling that of the South Bend Tribune. The front page got a new layout that looked very nice. A funny article that was a gossip column was added to the paper and was enjoyed by everyone.

Along with these changes, some things stayed the same. Veteran editor Michelle Windsor began her second year and felt very comfortable at the helm of the staff. "Being on the Alltold has given me much responsibility and involves hard work and the ability to do things right and get them done on time; but it also involves friends who are working close together which strengthens the bond of our friendships. Alltold may be hard work, but it is also fun and has its rewards."

A Different Kind Of Competition

Honor Societies Do It All

There were many clubs which gave students a goal to reach this past year. These clubs gave the students the recognition that they so deserved. The students were inducted into these clubs, that is, admitted as a member, which was a goal many tried to reach but few actually did. However, when they finally did reach this goal they worked very hard to retain this credit as a member.

Music Honor Society was developed for those students with "a tune in their ear" and "a song in their heart." These students auditioned and the members were thus selected by Mr. John Long, the choir director. These students gave performances to the entire group, which consisted of about ten students, all of whom excelled musically.

National Honor Society was developed for those students who excel in the academic field. These students were given recognition of their outstanding work and participation in the school. This recognition was shown while being inducted into one of the most reputable clubs in the school.

Quill and Scroll was developed for those students who found journalism to be a successful field. These students excelled in the Alltold or Miskodeed staff by possessing excellent newspaper or yearbook skills throughout the school year.

The Debate club, a club for those students who found the idea of believing in an issue and verbally expressing or arguing that point, was a very rewarding experience. Although a small group, they are in the process of growing.

Student Council

"... is a chance to improve our school and environment"

— Eric Werner

Student Council had a great year with many accomplishments. In contrast to an article in last year's Alltold, Student Council was not an 'early dismissal' for those who were chosen to be representatives. Those hours were spent discussing, planning, organizing, and voting on all kinds of helpful activities for the school. Our visitors from Japan early in the year were presented with flowers, and so were the seniors' grandparents. In fact, the whole idea of Grandparents' Day was organized by the Student Council. The powderpuff football game was sponsored and run by the council and made over 300 dollars. The canned food drive at Christmas time was a success due to the efforts of the Student Council in helping Mr. Manuszak. One of the council's fundraisers added a touch of spirit to our school. Mishawaka Mania was introduced to us by the council in cooperation with Mr. Haughee who designed the Mania logo. These were only a few of the accomplishments of the 1985-86 Student Council, and the school definately benefited from its many projects. Under the leadership of Mr. Robertson and Mr. Wayne, the Student Council was a success.

Thespians Carry On A Tradition

"Act Well Your Part; There All The Honor Lies." — Thespian Motto — Alexander Pope

It takes hard work to become a Thespian — a member of those elite actors and actresses of our school. Being a Thesian is something to be proud of, because only a few can fullfill the requirements of this group. Prospective Thespians must work in enough plays as actors, stage crews, etc. to accumulate ten points. Now they are ready for the inductions!

An initation is held in the spring, and some dread it, for it is known how all inductees are to dress up and act silly, sometimes to their embarassment. It is not unusual to see a Lil Abner or some other character wandering down the hall, reciting Shakesperian lines at the mercy of actual Thespians. These activities are high-lighted by the induction dinner after school, "hosted" by the incoming Thespians. They look, serve, and answer to every Thespian's beckoning.

While feasting, the honorable members are entertained by those wishing to be members. They sing, dance, tell jokes, and put on skits. One hit was Shelly Comstock's rendition of a poem, "The Peach." Overcome with emotion, she had to be escorted to the nearest mental asylum. It proved to be a funny skit, along with the one about the Ou La La Cafe, which was performed to the delight of the "audience." After all the mini plays, comedy acts, and other frolicking was over, it was finally time for these patient, enduring inductees to be formally inducted. After a hard day of being silly in the halls, playing waiter or waitress, and showing off their acting talents, it was nice to finally be treated with respect and pronounced a real Thespian. "It was worth it!" Missy Bice says of induction day, "It was terrible but fun and once it was over, you were glad you did it!" Being a Thespian means you are keeping a 2,000 year old tradition alive. The actors of Greece (Thepis) would be proud of our Thespians today.

Boys Win Double-Header Over Goshen

Ranking fifth in the Northern Indiana Conference, the Mishawaka Varsity Baseball team won 17 games and lost 12.

The boys played a good game against Elkhart Central in which they won 13 to 5. The Cavemen overtook Elkhart Central with two 5-run innings to break up a 3-2 game. With three hits and five trips, Mark Fowler was the winning pitcher with help from his teammates who combined in a 16-hit attack. Mike Waite had two hits and the only home run of the game, a solo in the forth. Jody Simmons, Tom Klaer, Bret Romfo, and John Danaher had two hits each.

Another exciting game for the boys was the double-header against Goshen. The Cavemen won both games with scores of 11 to 5, 10 to 9. Jim Buckman singled to drive in the winning run to lift Mishawaka to a sweep over visiting Goshen. Joe Jones and Tom Klaer each tripled in the first game. Tom Klaer had three RBI and Paul Fowler rapped a pair of doubles. John Danaher had a home run. Jody Simmons tripled for the second game and had two RBI.

Captain Mark Fowler received the Frank M.Steele Mental Attitude award in addition to the Most Valuable Player award. Mike Waite was named the Most Improved Player while the leading hitter was Tom Klaer. Joe Jones was the other team captain.

Girls Compete in Tournament

The girls' softball season might have started out quite dissappointingly, but it was Maureen "Moe" Klingbeil to the rescue. She had four hits, drove in three runs and stole two bases to lead the team to its first winning game after two losses. Michigan City Elston fell to theCavewomen in that game with a score of 13-3 as our girls attacked with 17 hits; Tami Gaby, Angie Dover, and Jenny Bolin each had two hits apiece. Julie Seltzer was the winning pitcher with help from Joanne Neff.

This was only one of the girls' better achievements, and they had many more goals. They decided at the beginning of the season that they wanted to have a .500 plus season (Winning more than half their games), they wanted to learn more of the finer points of the game, and they wanted to comprehend it better.

The new coaching staff helped them in those aspects. The new head coach was Cathy Devitte, who replaced John Taylor, and was aided by Jean Boddy. They helped the team with their goals, and they had goals of their own. One was to make a good showing in the championship tournament, which was entirely new to the area this year. This was the first time that softball had sectionals, regionals, semi-state or state tournaments. The team lacked a junior varsity and freshman team. Assistant Coach Boddy said, "We hope freshman and J.V. Teams will be formed for future softball players."

The players were happy with their team in the respect that they worked as a team and not as individuals. Even though, there players who still were recognized for their outstanding individual abilities. The Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude Award went to Sandy Landaw, and Tanya Calhoun was named the Most Improved Player. Maureen Klingbeil won the Golden Glove Award and was also The most valuable player and the leading hitter for the team. Captain honors this year went to Tami Gaby and Julie Seltzer.

Boys Sprint Into Action

The Maroon Typhoon was ready to roll in more ways than one. The Boys' Track team accomplished quite a few things this season with the help from very prominent people. Mike Rogers and Mark Schramm stood high at the Elkhart Memorials Chargers' meet. Mike Rogers tied a school record of 10.9 in the 100 dash set in 1946. This Cavemen senior held off the charging Craig Dale and lunged at the line to nip Dale, just a field record by one-tenth of a second. Rogers said of Dale, "He was right there. He was pressing and made me run harder. Last year I was running 11.2 and this year 11.3. The warmer weather helped. I wasn't as tight." Mike Rogers also scored first place points in the 200 and 400 and placed second in the high jump. Mark Schramm gained a slight lead over Memorial's Matt Ronzone on the final lap and then sprinted step for step with Ronzone for the last 100 meters, barely edging the Memorial ace at the finish line. Cavemen Coach Steve Jones said, "I wasn't counting on Schramm to win. That's the conference championship for him." Schramm stated, "I just tried to get ahead and sprint. I couldn't tell who won." Although the Cavemen lost this meet, we won things that could not be taken away.

The Most Improved Player was Dan Lanham. The Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude award went to Mark Schramm. Sean Gutierrez received the Walter E. Thurston High Point Running Event while John Bordner received the Walter E. Thurston High Point Field Event. Team captains were John Bordner, Mike Rogers, and Mark Schramm.

Girls Put A Little Dash Into Their Lives

Tammy Orszulak Sets Discus Record

The 1985 Girls' Track team, coached by Craig Salyer, Lori Alexander, and Tom Urbanski had a season record of six wins and six losses. In the Northern Indiana Conference the girls' record was 4-5. In a double meet against Bremen and Marian the Cavewomen lost to Bremen with a score of 60 to 48. The girls beat the Marian Knights with the score of 82 to 26. In this double match Tammy Orszulak set a school record in the discus with a distance of 108-5. Other first places went to Marianne Tobolski in the 100 hurdles with a time of 16.2, and Dalona Hall in the 800 with a time of 2:33.1. In the sectionals the girls came in seventh out of thirteen teams.

The Most Valuable Player was Tammy Orszulak, and the Most Improved was Kim Johnson. Jane Schroeder received the Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude award. High Point Field Events went to Tammy Orszulak, and High Point Track Events went to Marianne Tobolski.

Golfers Faced Tough Conference

The golf team had less than an impressive record (9-11) this past year, but they played in the toughest conference in the state. Four of the teams they were matched against were ranked in the top five in the state. Still, our golfers were not beat soundly; many matches were lost by only one or two points.

In addition to having to hurdle over obstacles within their own conference, the golfers had to hurdle over a problem here at home — lack of fan support. Such support is needed for a successful season and overcoming losses, especially those by just a few points. As the team comes back for another year, it is very clear that fan support is needed in this conference. The team agreed that this might make a difference not only in their scores but their attitudes as well.

Tony Reimer was awarded the Frank M. Steele award. Sun Uk Hong was credited for his hard work and great golfing as he was named the Most Valuable Player. Bart Shroyer was the Most Improved Player.

Soccer Fans Support Team

This past year's soccer team showed the loss of its two top scorers by ending the season with a disappointing record of three wins and nine losses. This record was disappointing to the players and the fans who came out in droves to support this team.

Soccer has proven itself to be a new spectator sport and that fact is refreshing. Soccer has become a popular sport amongst the student body, and more and more people are going out for the team because of it. The fans have proven it to be a popular sport. Now the guys must prove they are worthy of our attention.

Captains of the team were Brent Beckett, Bill Sorocco, and Dave Daggy. Dave Daggy was named the Most Valuable Player, and Mark Taylor was the Most Improved Player. The Frank M. Steele award went to Doug Germann.

Again many seniors will be gone from this team next year, but the underclassmen have the capability and determination to create a better tomorrow for this team.

"Soccer is a disciplined sport," said Bill Sorocco.

Tennis Teams Show Improvement

Both the boys' and girls' tennis got off to a slow start this year, but it had its highlights just the same. Going into the LaSalle match, MHS was the underdog, but with that incredible Caveman spirit, our girls pulled it off. Theresa Aschenbrenner was the key to the win as she broke a 2-2 tie breaker in the third. Another advance for the girls, this time for the B-team, was the long, hard-fought match with Adams, a tough team in contention for conference honors. Long after the varsity was finished, they stayed to cheer on the JV, who were fighting for every point in their match. As the sun began to go down and the shadows lengthened, the players began to get tired and the tension built up. The lead changed hands many times as the two doubles teams struggled. Finally, the MHS team won in the tie breaker, much to the relief of the team. Both the JV and the varsity improved this year, and the girls were complimented by other coaches and players on this improvement. "It really made me feel good!" said coach Beth Frick.

Personal accomplishments are what held both teams together. Reg Wagle mentioned a match he had against a John Glenn player. "I won a match against a very good opponent. It was a rough and tiring game. Afterwards I felt more confident about myself. This made me realize that confidence in yourself also plays a big part in your game."

The 1984-85 Most Valuable Player for the girls' tennis team was Carolyn Freeland. Mary Jo Spalding was the Most Improved Player. The Frank M. Steele Mental attitude award went to Jeanie Tordi. The girls' tennis captain was Carolyn Freeland.

The 1985-86 Most Improved Player for the boys' tennis team was Brian Baetsle. The team captain was Bart Shroyer, who was also the Most Valuable Player. The Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude Award also went to Bart Shroyer.

Cross Country

Cross Country Teams Pull Together To Win

The 1985-86 Boys' and Girls' Cross Country teams did a good job this season with a girls' record of nine wins and five losses. The boys had eight wins and five losses. There were a total of nine seniors on both teams: Mary Jane Schramm, Maria Chamberlin, Joanna Randolph, Cathy Skwiercz, Kevin Grewe, Tim Snyder, Todd Lighty, Paul Neispodziany, and Brian Rhodes. Four of the seniors were team captains: Maria Chamberlin and Mary Jane Schramm for the girls, and Tim Snyder and Todd Lighty for the boys. Coach Don Hendricks stated, "The seniors leaving will be greatly missed." The seniors had a great influence on the upperclassmen on both teams. The Most Valuable Players were Todd Lighty and Dalona Hall. The Most Improved Players were Steve Lanham and Joanna Randolph. Cathy Skwiercz, also known as "Old Faithful", and Tim Snyder received the Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude award.

The teams practiced at the Dunes this summer. The cavemen and cavewomen worked on conditioning their bodies to run the long distances and taking down their running times.

Dalona Hall said, "We pulled together when it really counted. The hard work and effort made the season worthwhile for me." Todd Lighty stated, "I really enjoyed being associated with this team. The best part of cross country is that running can be enjoyable. The friendships I developed while participating in cross country will be forever special to me. I will always remember all of the fun I had with these guys and girls."

Another Tough Frosh Team

The Freshmen Football Team ended their season with a record of five wins, two losses, and one tie. The tie game was against St. Joe. The score was 15-15. The cavemen again played St. Joe for the championship on October 22. Unfortunately the Cavemen lost 0 to 14. The freshmen defeated Adams, Riley, Grissom, Elkhart Central, and Washington. Coach Cromer said, "The team was starting to improve. They have also been building confidence and working as a team. These freshmen players have nothing to be ashamed of; they worked hard for what they achieved. These Cavemen will be of value to the varsity and junior varsity football teams next year."

Cavemen Scan Horizon

The 1985-86 Varsity Football team ended their season with a record of six wins and four losses under new coach Dave Tanner. Coach Tanner and the Cavemen made it to the sectionals but were beaten by Valparaiso preventing the Cavemen from going any further. Many rewards were given. Vincent Mammolenti received the Offensive Lineman award. Steve Roggeman, a captain, was awarded the Offensive Back award and the Booster Club Helmet award. The Defensive Lineman award went to Jay Grass. The Defensive Back award was given to Glen Hixenbaugh. Joel Krop received the Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude award.

A close game for the Cavemen came during the MHS vs Riley game in which a field goal secured the Cavemen win of 17 to 14. This field goal was kicked by Scott Laymon for thirty-two yards with :04 left in the game. "We took a chance on having Laymon kick the field goal. Rich Wood usually kicks extra points for Mishawaka," said Coach Tanner. "Laymon's got a little more power but he's not quite as accurate as Wood. He really surprised me."

Another exciting game for the Cavemen was against the Elkhart Central Blazers in which the Cavemen won 15 to 6. The teams had four turnovers, two fumbles, and two interceptions each, within the first five minutes of the game. But late in the first quarter the Cavemen turned a Central turnover into a touchdown. The second touchdown came again in the fourth down of the second quarter when Kocsis rolled right, eluded a tackle, and threw the ball into the end zone as he was being dragged down by an Elkhart Blazer. Split end, Mike Waite out jumped a Central defensive back and came down with the ball near the end line for a touchdown. Scott Laymon's extra point made it 15-0. "We knew sooner or later we would be a good football team," said Coach Tanner, as we placed second in the NIC.

Girls Capture 50th NIC Victory

The Cavewomen captured their 50th consecutive Northern Indiana Conference (NIC) victory by defeating the highly regarded Riley Wildcats with a final score of 18-16 and 15-13. "Riley is for real," said Coach Anderson.

The final blow to the game was a short dump over the Riley block into the center hole delivered by junior Kim Hobkirk, one of MHS' top defensive players. "She just decided to take the game into her own hands," said Anderson of Hobkirk.

The first game was in a deadlock nine different times, once at 15-15 and then at 16-16. Ending the game, Kim DeNeve delivered five kills, Kelly Niedbalski delivered three tips, and Lori Barton delivered a key spike which gave the Cavewomen possession with a two point lead.

The Most Valuable Player was Kim DeNeve; the Most Improved Player was Lori Barton. The Frank M. Steele award went to Kelly Niedbalski. The girls ended their season with 28 wins and 3 losses.

Swim Teams Break Records

The Girls' Swim Team had a record breaking season. Mary Ruppe broke the records in the 200 free, 200 I.M. 50 free, 100 fly, 100 free, 500 free, 100 backstroke, 100 breaststroke, and the 400 free relay along with Jennifer Wiseman, Kim Ross, and Debbie Freeland. Mary Ruppe went to the state meet where she placed 7th in the I.M. and 4th in the 100 breaststroke. The 400 free relay also made it to the state meet.

The girls' season was a big improvement from previous years. They had many close meets, points away from victory. Mary Ruppe commented, "I intend to work hard next year and up my standings at state."

The boys' and girls' teams were both coached by new coaches. The girls' coach was Mary Teeter, and the boys' coach was Bill Carpenter. Both have had previous swimming experience.

The Boys' Swim Team did very well this year considering the small team size of only twelve members. They also set many new records this year. Bart Shroyer set the 200 free, 500 free, 100 breaststroke, and the 400 free relay. Jeff Brandenburg set the 50 free school record and was also a member of the record breaking 400 free relay team along with Mike Teeter and Mike Zorn.

Todd Lighty sums up the season by stating, "We have had a lot of fun this year in swimming. Coach Carpenter did an excellent job of varying the workouts and our events so that it was always exciting. Although our record wasn't really impressive, I think we swam up to our potential, and I am glad I was a part of this year's team."

Wrestling

Wrestlers Go Semi-State

"The most solid team I've coached in 22 years," was the way coach Al Smith commented about this year's wrestlers. Overall, the Varsity grapplers ended up with an outstanding 17 and 1 season. This year for the first time, five wrestlers went to Semi-State. Regional champ Dan Morena (126 lb) carried a 31-0 record to Semi-State. Also 98 lber Mark Baer and 132 lber David Metcalf obtained 31-1-1 and 31-1 records respectively. Junior Mike Faulker (185 lb) gave the Cavemen crowd many nailbiting matches. Yet another spark on Smith's team came from Sophomore Charlie Cornett (105 lb) who went 21-5 into regionals.

At the conclusion of JV matches, Coach Lance Beehler certainly had something to brag about. His team posted a 17-0 season, the best JV record ever in the history of MHS wrestling. Each and every wrestler has much to be proud of as they once again have displayed their best and have shown who is number one. We are all anticipating next year as Smith has nothing to worry about — great wrestlers are on the way.

Boys' Basketball

Boys Win Championship Game

"Pride, heart, and guts" was what this year's boys' varsity basketball team was made of, as Cavemen fans had a basketball team that they could proudly hoot and hollar for. The team's special highlights came in winning the championship crown in the Elkhart Holiday Tourney and the South Bend Sectional Championship. The team defeated the John Adams Eagles 59-45 before a crowd of 2,567 at Notre Dame's Athletic and Convocation center to win their first S.B. tourney victory since 1975. The Cavemen then proceeded to the final game of the Michigan City regional before losing to No. 4 ranked Rogers.

Although we heard about high scorers and performances quite often, not much was said about the guy who made it possible, Coach Bill Davidson, who was named by the South Bend Tribune as the All-Metro boys' basketball coach of the year. This comment from Greg Martin (Plasma 1) sums him up well; "Mr. Davidson treated us all like individuals and not just as 'players'."

Overall, the varsity ended up with an excellent record despite forfeiting three wins because of an error made in calculating credits concerning the eligibility of two players. Bob Fowler (Plasma 2) replied, "We played like a family because that's how close we were."

Girls' Basketball

Girls Make Valiant Effort

Young spunk pays off. This year Coach John Taylor had to construct a powerfull girls' basketball team with the help of only four juniors and five sophomores. Outstanding Junior Shelly Johnson paced the Cavemen offense averaging 15 points and 10 rebounds per game. Whitney Love, averaging about 14 points, also helped MHS with her tremendous outside shooting.

Although the girls' season record ended up to be 10-9, four of those losses were only by three baskets. For example, the Michigan City Elston game which was lost by one point, could have just as easily been a victory. Nevertheless, the Cavemen definitely have high hopes for next year as most of the team will be experienced.

Overall, center Holly Waumans replied, "The girls' team accomplished many goals considering the youth and injuries that plagued everyone throughout the entire season. We have a lot to look forward to next year."

Captain Shelly Johnson received the MVP, the rebounding, and the free throw awards. Sharon Schutz was also a captain, while the Most Improved player was Kristi Kovach. Holly Waumans received the Frank M. Steele Mental Attitude award.

Mighty Juniors Win 1985 Powder Puff Game

The 1958-86 Girls' Powder Puff game took place on October 30; the teams were ready and willing to pound the opposing teams to the ground.

During the first quarter a freshman intercepted a pass from sophomore quarterback Stephanie Linson and ran the wrong way for a touchdown, giving the sophomores a two-point safety and the game.

The second quarter was much more tame, giving the seniors a score of six to zero against the sophomores. The third quarter stood still for the junior and freshman teams. Neither team could get through the opposing defensive lines. The game ended in a tie of zero to zero.

The most awaited game came last — the juniors vs. the seniors (alias the "Swarmettes"). Both teams were determined to win. Starting out junior Maryanne Negri broke through the senior offensive line intercepting a quarterback pitch to a runningback and made a touchdown. The next point was scored by Rochelle Kahlenback. The Juniors tried a double-pass for a touchdown but referees called it back because only one pass per four completions was allowed. This game ended in disappointment to the seniors as the juniors won it seven to zero. Maryanne Negri said, "I'm on the junior powderpuff team to show that the class of '87 can accomplish its goals."

Bucky Linson, the powderpuff announcer, said that the game was "excellent and the most exciting game I've ever seen girls play. I was shocked that girls could do that!"

Powderpuff football usually starts around the end of the boys' football season. The girls had a week to practice and learn the plays. A lot of effort was put into that one week of work. The colors were maroon, seniors; gold, juniors; white, sophomores; and blue, freshmen. Powderpuff continues to grow at MHS.

"Coaching sophomores gave me insight into the other side of the sport," said Mike Dolgos.

"The juniors were extremely lucky in penetrating the seniors' ferocious line," said David Coyle.

Talk To Me!

English Skills Help Us Communicate

Communication! What an important word in today's society. Without it we wouldn't be able to get a job, talk with our friends, or even write a letter. Many classes at MHS were focused on bettering our communication with the world in which we live.

One of these classes was based on better speaking which, in turn leads to a more communicative environment. This class delt with some important fundamentals of public speaking. Each and every student was required to give a demonstration speech, a prepared speech, and also a spontaneous speech to meet the teacher's expectations. This class helped each student to better communicate with people in his or her surrounding environment.

Another class was the Mass Media class. This helped the student gain a better appreciation for progams available on television. The students were able to operate television broadcasting equipment and make mock commercials.

Probably the most important class in this field is the English class. This helped the students not only to communicate, but to do it correctly. The students studied this in many different ways, whether it was term papers, oral or written reports or grammar exercises.

A Bit Of Culture

Students Learn Foreign Languages

Hola! Tag! Bonjour! Hi! These all have the same meaning, but you wouldn't know this unless you had some kind of foreign language background. All of these words are the same yet the languages of German, Spanish, and French are so different, whether it be vocabulary, sentence structure, or even punctuation.

Without learning a foreign language, people from different parts of the world would not be able to communicate. Surely, not everyone will need a foreign language, but it's always good to have one just in case. Whether you may run into someone who doesn't speak English when you travel to a foreign land, or whether you need to save money by testing out of foreign language courses in college, a foreign language in high school is very handy.

Mr. Badry stated, "It might help students get a better job or travel to other countries. It will help them to become more intelligent, and help them understand a language and culture better."

An opportunity to join a club is offered along with taking a foreign language course. Clubs do many fun activities throughout the year. There are Christmas parties, a progressive dinner, and sometimes a trip. The students have various fund raisers to help finance these activities. All in all, the students seem to enjoy participating in a club that relates to the language they would like to learn.

It's History

Students Study War Games

What are the affects of communism in the world today? Why is the past so important for the future?

The answers to these questions and many more lie in the classrooms of the social studies department at MHS.

In the US history classrooms, students probed the causes and results of various wars, depressions and reforms all through the history of the United States.

On the other hand, the world history classes discussed events beginning in the Stone-Age through the Renaissance to the present day.

In government class, students learned about the constitution and the structure and functions of the three branches of our government.

The international relations class was a mixture of all three of these courses. In addition they talked about geography, economics, the branches of government, and their relationships to our future.

A new club was formed this year to express the need for learning history. This club was the Quiz Bowl Kids, which consisted of students who were quizzed on questions dealing with history. The students met after school to practice for many days before competing with others. The group seemed to enjoy history, thus they enjoyed the club.

$12y + 3y = 15$. Answer: $y=1$. This is a very easy problem, but you might not have any idea unless you have taken an algebra class sometime in high school. Algebra deals with equalities, inequalities, factoring, and even square roots.

Given: $c=d$
Prove: $c=e$

This equation is obviously a proof from the confusing corridor of geometry. To many of us, not only was it confusing, but impossible. On the other hand, some students flew right through the problem, like a breeze. Geometry covered all kinds of proofs, equations, and parallel lines.

$$2y + 7 + 9 = 0$$
$$3 \times 2$$

On the other hand, this problem was taken from second year algebra, trigonometry. This class dealt with the fundamentals of first year, but took them a step further and into much more depth.

Another class was the computer class. As a result of more equipment in 1983, the computer class keeps growing. More students find that they need this class for the future that lays ahead of them. So many good jobs require experience with computers, which you can get from this class.

Kevin Hardy masters the essentials.

The Mad Scientists

Students Discover Their World

Cats! Frogs! Worms! Crayfish! Sharks??? Yes! Even sharks were dissected in the biology classes this year. Even though many of us "grossed out" at the thought of cutting these animals up, we knew if we wanted to get a good grade, we would have to undergo this devious task. We would start cutting, plugging our noses and closing our eyes, hoping the bell would soon ring. Others, however, were engrossed in taking the animal apart, piece by piece, and examining the internal organs of the creature. Each of the biology classes took some kind of animal and dissected it at some time during the year.

Biology often helps high school students to be better prepared for a career they may go into. Whether it be nursing, scientist, doctor, surgeon, or many others, a science background is required.

Most of the other science classes don't have the need for dissection. One of these was earth science. It dealt with the earth's surface, and subjects related to it. Chemistry, on the other hand, worked with labs relating to chemicals in the classroom.

The science department sponsored a club called Mishawaka Waltonians. It is based on the Izaak Walton League in South Bend. The club was geared mainly toward field ecology and conservation. The students took trips, held discussions, and had lots of fun! The students seemed to enjoy the club, especially if they enjoyed science.

The Art Works

Expressing Ourselves Creatively

Art has been a way men and women have expressed their inner feelings and their most fascinating dreams since the beginning of time. But as time passed on, and man evolved, so did his imagination. Not only does man use a piece of paper and a pencil to express his ideas, he now uses such things as: ink, paint, stone, steel, and even glass.

Many students, however, seemed to have "caught their eyes" on the photography class. This class is still fairly new, but the class is growing. The art department supplied most of the necessary chemicals, but the students were required to supply their own camera, black and white film, and paper.

The students took numerous field trips in their search for good artistic subject matter. Some of the best objects to photograph were still life composition, man-made objects such as buildings, and textured items. The students looked for atmospheric effects and capturing patterns of light. Mr. Kitkowski the class teacher, encouraged the students to use creative camera techniques and to produce special darkroom effects.

Many students found art either so creative, so interesting, or just good old fun. For these students, there was the art club. The club usually met once a month. They participated in such activities as window decorating, monoprintmaking, and ceramic projects.

Machine Shop Builds Lives

Industrial arts — a class for those students, boys and girls, who were interested in making a project. These classes included drafting, woodshop, graphic arts, and electric shop. The classes not only prepared students for careers after graduation, but they also provided interesting hobbies. The classes proved to be practical and useful in everyday life.

The classes no longer contain only boys, as most of us assume. More and more girls are beginning to enroll in these helpful courses.

Drafting class was based on designing blue-prints for houses and making scale models of their own ideas.

The woodshop learned about basic and advanced forms of wood crafting.

Further through the halls was the electric shop class where students were taught how to handle and respect electricity.

Last but not least were the graphic arts classes that printed and typeset student directories to report cards, play posters, and programs. The students who took this class will more than likely be able to get a job in that field later on in their lives.

The Building trades class has built a house each year. This year has also produced a house. The students earn profits for the class once the house is sold. This teaches them not only the proper way to build a house, but also team work, and cooperation.

Auto mechanics and machine shop taught the students about repairing engines, carpentry, electricity, plumbing, and heating.

All in all, the students, boys and girls, seemed to enjoy this learning experience.

We're Cookin'

Life Skills Keep Us Prepared

Future! There were some classes offered in school that had a direct correlation to our lives. Many skills were learned that pertained to immediate everyday life, unlike some classes which are not used unless a student attends college.

Gym class not only kept our bodies in shape, but it also kept our minds in shape. It often was hard work, but it was also usually fun. Students were required to participate in scheduled events given by the gym instructors, which ranged from daily warm-up exercises to running as many laps around the track as possible, from indoor matball to out door football, and from volleyball to swimming at the "Y". All in all the time spent seemed to never last.

Another required course was health. The students learned about the body and it's functions and how to perform CPR. Special mannequins were provided for this unit. At the end of the unit the students were tested by Mishawaka Paramedics; if the students passed the testing, they were issued a card that protects the person giving CPR under any circumstances if anything happens to the victim while CPR is being performed.

Home economics was also a class offered which included home economics, cooking, clothing, family living, housing, and child care. Students became familiar with the making of cookie dough and holiday treats. They had practical experience in preparing full meals and serving them to members of the faculty during the lunch hour. They learned many valuable skills to plan, prepare, and serve a meal.

Getting Down to Business

Shorthand Is Our Language

Accounting! Marketing! Typing! They all are to be found in the business department. With many jobs available in the work and management field, the students will have a good start to make their future career a success.

In typing and shorthand, the students learned the basic skills of secretarial work. Business goals were set for the students by their teachers; many were reached throughout the year. General business and accounting were also available to these career-minded students. The skills taught may have been basic, but they were absolutely essential for succcess in the business world of today. The students reacted very well; they felt a strong sense of accomplishment and pride that they had successfully learned a new, yet difficult skill that could actually be applied for working situations.

Distributive Education Clubs of America, or DECA, is a youth organization for the students of MHS enrolled in a marketing course. They were involved in the Muscular Dystrophy Association and also visited various retirement homes and hospitals. Office Education Association, or OEA, is a club that seniors may join to help them understand today's problems in the business world. The two clubs also participated in many fund raisers including the carnation sale and the spirit caps.

Something strange happens to us as we become juniors and seniors — the T.V. room becomes mysteriously silent. What is the reason? Why, students finally became serious about their "jobs."

There is fun to be had in learning some of our classes we enjoy. These days, students have many responsibilities besides just regular homework. Many different courses are offered here at MHS. including computer courses, foreign languages, CPR sessions, and many other interesting classes. Business classes are very popular for Mishawaka students because they are allowed to hold down an afternoon job as part of their education.

Overall, students here at Mishawaka are very fortunate to be able to take part in the large amount of opportunities which are offered.

Is it possible to have fun while learning? Brian Nelson and Chris Monroe think so!

Dear Diary,

As the school year draws to an end, I realize now that we were not the big people of junior high any longer nor the little people of high school. We were just ourselves. I think that being a freshman is an experience that comes once in a lifetime. During the school year I met new friends and even made the upperclassmen sit up and take notice of me. I think that the more I get involved the better my years of high school will be.

I will remember the first chaotic day of school; no one knew where to go or what to do! Also I will remember the orientation when Mr. Smith and Rocco Zappia introduced themselves and talked to us about what to expect from MHS and the Student Council.

I had so much fun I don't want school to end, but as I think about it, spending my summer days on the beach.... well, that's another story.

Being A Freshman

Being a Freshman Means:

Dawn Kyle: It gives you the chance to meet a lot of new people and get out and have fun. It's also a lot of hard work and very frustrating at times but you are faced with a lot of new opportunities.

Paul Dellinger: It's fun and exciting but yet it can really be a lot of trouble. All the other upperclassmen look down on you thinking you're the worst thing that could come along. But over all it's fun because there are still some upperclassmen who remember what it was like to be a freshman.

Genny Thomas: Being a freshman means it is a big step in your life and a decision to make. You are planning for the rest of your life. You have responsibility just as well as the upperclassmen do. As upperclassmen in years to come, we will have memories to look back on.

Noelle Warren: Being a freshman here at Mishawaka High is a whole big adventure to me! It's an adventure because high school is the part of my life that counts toward my future. Being a freshman is saying "Hey! This is the beginning of your life!"

Angie Lynn: Being a freshman here at M.H.S. means so much to me. I finally made it here! And I can't wait till I'm an upperclassmen.

It's hard not to notice, but for those who are too absorbed in the everyday crisis of school — we're having a freshmen population explosion! It's almost impossible to believe, but there are five hundred and seventy two, yes this number is correct, five hundred and seventy two freshmen in our school! Clogging up the halls, making the upper-classmens' lives a mess, these people are invading Mishawaka! Where do they come from, why are they here, and most importantly, sw assu them t unknown tion of our sc junior high princ year's freshmen cla in the school's history, things to come? We can o.

Dear Diary,

Being a sophomore is fun, more than I expected. It seems as if a lot of things I learned suddenly came together for me and made studying for my classes a little easier. I actually had fun in most of my classes. The year wasn't expected to be easy going. College or career choice yet or turn in the "DREADED TERM PAPER!" Hope I'm prepared for both when the time comes. But for now, my biggest concerns are who's going steady, or breaking up and who I'll be going out with at the end of the week. All parents finally started letting me date. Mostly I'll remember these first dates and the fun we all had double dating. I'll also remember dressing up for spirit week, powder puff and generally just being involved. Only the best things are yet to come.

Dear Diary,

Well Dude can you believe it! I made it through another year alive! My Junior year. I thought it was pretty cool this year. I finally came to know who everyone was and where all the Parties were. I even made friends with the seniors! They are just like me, only more responsibilities are on their minds. I can understand that going through the term Paper, a career choice (only tentative, you understand), and a job at night to support my guzzling car. And to think I actually talked my Parents into buying that bomb. I will remember most my first prom- the Junior-Senior Prom. It's hard to believe that in one short summer we will be the seniors of tomorrow. Oh, Diary, don't let me forget to have my senior picture taken this summer. I want my senior year to be the best.

Our Favorite Classes

We're juniors — we're finally upper-classmen! We made it to the big eleven. But with our accomplishment we still had to earn our recognition. Everyone knows that juniors aren't really juniors until that terrible RESEARCH PAPER is completed. It hung over our heads for those four dark weeks in the first semester, but for the most part, we got it done. There were those who were out for an A — "Oh, it's only three in the morning; I guess I can take a few more notes, do the rough draft and turn it in a week early!" Then there were those out for a few bucks — "Sure I'll type it for you — for ten bucks! Ha ha " And there were those who just wanted to get it over with! — "This sounds pretty good — I'll just have to make up a call number for this 'book' for the bib card! At least I won't have to wory about plagiarism!" We all had our own ways to cope with this legendary problem, but, as the class of '87 always does, we made it through. Well, those of us who didn't make up fake call numbers did anyway.

Juniors Are At Home

What does it mean to be a junior? Well it is a different experience for different people. Most of us, though, like it pretty well; it is definately better than being a sophomore or freshman. We have more experience behind us; we know exactly what's going on. We have responsibility and freedom. We're not like the seniors who are scrambling to get accepted to a college somewhere since this is their last year, and we're not like freshmen or sophomores who have it a little bit easier than we do. We could be considered a sort of middle of the road class; we're not infatuated with the newness of high school anymore but we're glad for the one more year after this before college. Being a junior means many things but mostly it means feeling at home.

MIKE HUFFER — "It means next year we'll be SENIORS!"

KIM CHAPLIN — "I don't have to go here to the school all day. I go to the Career Center, which I couldn't do when I was a sophomore."

ANDRA PAVULS — "We only have one more year of high school and I'll miss all of my friends."

KEN WINTERS — "Being a junior means I can part my hair any way I want!"

JERRY FOX — "I'm two years away from being a freshman!"

Foreign Exchange Students

Ina Braegelmann is from West Germany and is spending a year in Mishawaka. When asked what she liked about MHS Ina said, "I like the people, they are so open and friendly!! They do things together to have fun." She went on to say West German teenagers play sports, play instruments, and go to the movies, and parties for fun. Her school doesn't have a dress code but they do go to school at 7:45 or 8:30 a.m. and get out at 1:25. They go home and do whatever they are involved in for the rest of the day. It seems to her that American teenagers are more interested in how you dress, how you look, and what things are "in" than to talk about serious topics like many do in her country. She does say however, that American teenagers and West German teenagers do have things in common such as being with people and having fun. Her hobbies are playing the violin and piano. She likes to ski and is looking forward to a lot of snow this winter. Her plans in the future are undecided but she may go to pharmacy school.

When asked how American teenagers were different from Brazilian teenagers, Cristina Leite said that everyone here works and, "It's so weird because I've never had a job in my whole life and I don't intend to until I finish high school." What she likes about MHS are the football/basketball games and all the other activities at school. The music that is popular there are the ones from U.S., England, Germany, Australia, and Brazil (of course). Also samba is popular but she doesn't like it. Forro is another type of music that is getting very popular and spreading all over the country. It originated from the area Christina is from.

The name "forro" comes from "for all" in the English language. ("for all" because it's a popular kind of music). Cristina's hobbies are playing the guitar, practicing ballet, tap dancing, and gymnastics. Her plans are to graduate from MHS, go back to Brazil, and graduate, and then go to college in 1987.

Enjoy American Life

You might hear "Hola!" in Ms. Johnston s class but then again you might hear Jose Mercader saying "Hi." Jose Mercader is visiting Mishawaka for the year from Spain. When asked what the best thing he liked about MHS was he said, "I like the school spirit; I think it is very nice because it keeps the students close to the school." The American teenagers are different from Spanish teenagers because the Spanish teenagers like to go with their friends in big groups rather than two or three. The school day in Spain is longer because they have nine or ten subjects. School starts at 9:00 and ends at 5:00 or 6:00 p.m. Spanish teenagers like to go to cafes or other friends' houses during the week, and during the weekends they go to the discotheque.

The music that is popular in Spain is pop-music or disco music. Jose's hobbies are listening to music and dancing but the main things he enjoys are reading and looking through a microscope. His plans in the future include going to college and studying medicine.

If MHS was to compare Paz Veloz's country to the U.S. we would find that we have quite a few things in common with Chile, such as schools, music, and social activities. Paz Veloz says that the difference in American teenagers and Chile's teenagers are the curfews — Chile's is later. A school day in her country starts at 8:15 a.m., and after three classes there is a break of fifteen minutes. Then two more classes and another break of ten minutes. Two more classes then lunch, and then two more classes and school is over.

Chilean music includes new wave, rock, and pop. In general, it's the same music as the U.S. The things that she and her friends have in common are going out to parties, movies, dances every Friday and Saturday. Her hobbies are talking on the phone, listening to music, playing volleyball, and swimming. She has plans to graduate from MHS and go straight to the University of Chile and study chemical engineering.

Planning For The Future,

Shelly Comstock, Stacie Myers, and Barb Wagner smile about their crazy plans.

Mike Dolgos, Brian Armstrong, Joel Krop, and Grady Faulkner take it easy, knowing that their plans for the future are secure.

Barb Wagner: I plan to attend college, get rich, and eventually go to the South Pole and steal one-hundred penguins.

Mike Waite: I plan to get a great big dog to keep me company when I'm working on the street department.

Stephanie Waite: I plan to attend a Florida fashion college, then marry a rich, gorgeous guy with big muscles and live on a llama farm in South America.

Steve Wilson: I plan to make easy money any way I can.

Stacie Myers: I plan to jump David Lee Roth's bones!

Grady Faulkner: I plan to attend a technical school and someday own "Shady's Garage."

Shelly Comstock: I plan to attend a college, then move to Colorado and find a gorgeous skiier with a Guess Jean Jacket.

Brian Armstrong: I plan to become smart enough to soar through the heavens on the space shuttle.

Joel Krop: I plan to hopefully play football at college, continue working out, and get as big as the Barbarians.

Mike Dolgos: I plan to attend college, become an architect and go to Alaska with Mr. Mann.

Eddie Ellsasser: I plan to attend college, find a good job and many good looking ladies.

Mark Daggy: I plan to win the lottery, move out, give my parents a wealthy share, and be lazy for the rest of my life, and then find my psychic ability.

Rick Chaney: I plan to join the CIA and learn Russian.

Seniors Roll Out With A Smile

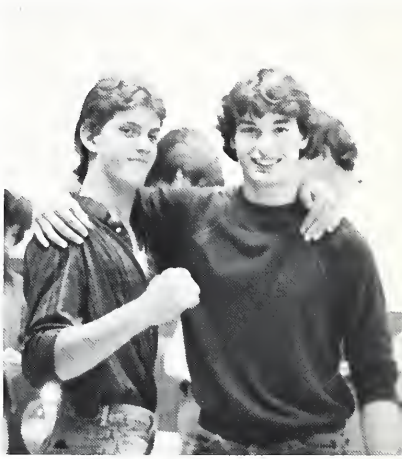
The Senior class has portrayed strength, leadership, and quality during their three years at MHS. When the Seniors came to Mishawaka, they never had the opportunity to experience being the youngest class. Now, the past does not matter because this year's Seniors have ruled over all. They have done an excellent job of setting fine examples for the underclassmen. When asked how they feel, Senior Cyndi Mikesell replied, "Being a Senior was a blast until you realize that it's your last year of high school, and you won't see your old friends much anymore."

The Senior year began with numerous changes, one being the extended school hours. This year, no one had the privilege of dropping last hour study halls to leave school early. Instead, a Physics class of mostly Seniors started their school day at a special 7:20 a.m. class. The next change was that pep sessions were no longer allowed. Of course, several "orientations" were held to promote spirit anyway.

Throughout the year, Seniors ran in their last meet, wrestled their last match, played their last game, or acted out their last play each time with a lump in their throats knowing that they can never go back to those times again. Participation during activities such as dressing up for spirit week and waving Mania towels at games was what will be remembered.

Although the road's end seemed so far away, Seniors have found that it was waiting right around the corner and now is here. Planning for the future seemed unnecessary at times, but now college and occupations look us right into the eyes. As stated by Aaron Bobson, "Being a Senior was like a fish being released into the stream of life."



Rick Springman and Steve Zornig are going to miss the good ole days at Mishawaka High School.

Suzi Jones butters up Coach Dave Coyle to obtain a starting position in the annual Powderpuff game.

Mike Waite, Steve Wilson, and Rocco Zappia are just an example of the quality that comes out of M.H.S.

Does that rose taste good, John Negri?

Senior Class Officers — Class Of '86

They Set Examples Both In And Out Of The Classroom

The Senior Class officers possessed a wide variety of talents and interests which helped them in their official duties. Assisting in determining student policy and representing Mishawaka High School in an official capacity as student leaders were only two of the tasks of the class officers. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Badry, they were also responsible for choosing a gift to present to the school from the class of 1986 and will organize future class reunions. These officers were nominated and elected by their classmates at the beginning of the school year.

Don Hostetler, a three year letterman on the football team, exemplified leadership on the field and in the classroom.The vice president is generally in charge of keeping meetings organized, and is also required to solve any problems which may arise having to do with the Senior Class. "Having been elected Vice President I took on new responsibilities, and learned how to fill an office position," he said.

Steve Roggeman, another outstanding athlete, is the final link in a strong family tradition of leadership. According to Steve, "I am very proud to have been elected Treasurer of the Class of 1986. This office and its duties have really helped me be a more responsible person throughout the year. "The position of treasurer takes time and effort to balance the class budget and to make sure enough money is secured for the class gift.

Mary Jane Schramm, a letter winner in track and cross-country, also demonstrated many leadership qualities. The president of the Senior Class must take on the responsibility to call a meeting of all officers when necessary. "As president," she stated, "my classmates looked upon me as their voice in any discussions with the administration on student policy. I hope my representation helped to maintain the good rapport between the students and the faculty."

Bonnie Schwepler, another high achiever in track, was one of nine students selected by Mr. and Mrs. Phenegar to travel to northern Europe to study other cultures first-hand. "Learning about another country is always helpful when you fit the gained knowledge into your own duties. As secretary, my duties included recording the official minutes of all meetings of the class officers, but I also represented our class by conveying their thoughts and ideas to the school administration."

As athletes and students the officers of the class of 1986 were clearly emulated by their classmates.

Declaration of Preparation

ALL SAT PROGRAMS ARE NOT CREATED EQUAL!

WHEREAS, there are many SAT preparation programs available, but there is only one that has been boosting scores for over forty-five years:

WHEREAS, there are a lot of courses that promise results, but there is only one whose educational value is acclaimed by counselors and teachers nationwide;

WHEREAS, there are some programs that supplement live classes with tapes, but there's only one with 120 TEST-N-TAPE® Centers open days, evenings, week-ends;

We hereby declare there is only one preparation professional chosen by more SAT applicants than any other!

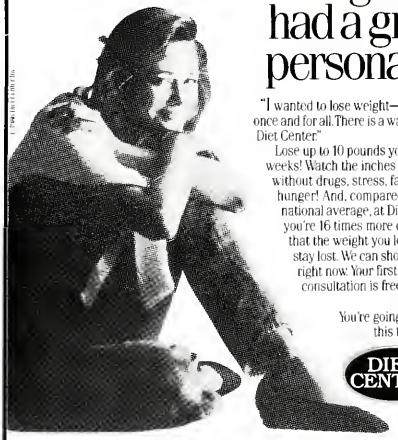
I was tired of being told I had a great personality.



"I wanted to lose weight—fast—and once and for all. There is a way. It's called: Diet Center"

Lose up to 10 pounds your first two weeks! Watch the inches disappear—without drugs, stress, fatigue or hunger! And, compared to the national average, at Diet Center you're 16 times more certain that the weight you lose will stay lost. We can show you how, right now. Your first personal consultation is free. Call now!

You're going to make it this time.
